Baldwin High School

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Foreword

Baldwin High School is more than a building to its students. It is our home away from home, where during the day we study and research, write innumerable papers and complain about life in general. But after classes are the meetings, concerts, and athletic events, and we know it's "Purple and white forever." For this reason, each succeeding graduating class takes a little bit of Baldwin with it and leaves behind something of itself. In this book we have tried to capture the spirit of Baldwin 1962.

DEDICATION

Miss Elizabeth Kirkland served as sponsor of the Balthi for twenty years, devoting much of her time and a great deal of energy to making it one of the finest high school annuals. This year's staff, in recognition of her long service, feels that the 1962 Balthi should be dedicated to Miss Kirkland with the hope that this book will in some part measure up to the high standards which she has established for this annual.

Elizabeth B. Kirkland

FACULTY

BOARD OF DIRECTORS—Standing: Edward R. Lawrence, Solicitor, Stanley A. Jarecki, Secretary, Edwin W. Elliott, William B. Cullen. Seated: Andrew W. Kovacs, Edward X. Hallenberg, Vice-President; Richard D. Snouffer, President; Katherine K. Stone, Clifford M. Sweitzer, Fred E. Barron. Not Present: Don E. Vierling.

Administration

Dr. W. Robert Paynter, Supervising Principal.

One of the least recognized parts of our school system is the school board. It is through their supervision that the school system is effectively operated.

Dr. W. Robert Paynter, supervising principal for eleven years, graduated from the Pennsylvania State University and the University of Pittsburgh where he received his Master of Education and Doctorate.

Our thanks go to the administration for the excellent job they have done this year.

THE CONTINUOUS TEST

Hardly a day passes in which we don't experience that which is unwholesome, degrading, and unclean. It isn't possible to avoid these sordid and unpleasant dangers.

The strong man or woman will expect to travel some roads of life which are not smoothly paved. The continuous test is to be able to recognize the unclean, associate with it, and yet not become a part of it.

You can't sidestep or stiff-arm the unpleasant because our society is made up of many situations and events that may force you to enter the unwanted and undesirable.

The continuous test is yours for all your earthly existence. To recognize and to associate sometimes with the unclean and yet not become a part of it is your constant task.

The continuous test is self evaluated. Make your achievement the highest.

C. PAUL CLARK
Principal

C. Paul Clark, Principal

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANTS—Standing: Raymond E. Baker, J. Ernest Harrison. Seated: Dr. Warren Shepler, Wilbert C. Brandtonies.

The administrative assistants are responsible for the employment of personnel, the purchase of supplies, and the planning and development of curriculum. It is their responsibility to evaluate the instructional staff and aid in the supervision of students.

H. E. Demich, Vice-Principal
A. S. Crevar, Administrative Assistant
"Quiet! Administrators at work!"

SECRETARIES—Dorothy Nickel, Dorothy Hasbach, Carol Simmons, Kay Vaglia.
"The report card rush."

H. J. Klein, Co-ordinator
"Can I help you?"

Guidance

Luella H. Caldwell
"Now, what seems to be the problem?"

J. H. McCormick, Mary H. George.
"This book may answer your college questions."

Jennie F. Halapatz, W. L. Klein, Elizabeth C. Beidler, Claudia A. Stroyd, P. C. Fleischauer, E. J. Neiderlander.
"Summit Conference—"

Eleanore M. Smith, Co-ordinator
"Theme Dreams—"

English

Marian E. Corbett
"Read! read! read!"

J. F. Butler
"Louder, please!"

W. L. Warren
"Welcome to English class."

F. D. Campbell, Josephine Minetti, Librarians.
"This book looks interesting."

C. F. Greiner, A. P. English.
"Support your generalizations."

ADVANCED PLACEMENT ENGLISH

A. P. English is a college course offered to high school seniors who show a particular aptitude in English. The writing in this course is primarily analytical, expository and argumentative. In the literature program the emphasis is placed on intensive rather than extensive reading.

Now in its second year at Baldwin, A. P. English has challenged and rewarded its participants.

Sara J. Daley, Anne C. Pfister,
 Patricia A. Jardini.
"How would you like to have to clean this house?"

J. E. Gillooly, Elizabeth B. Jenkins, Co-ordinator, L. J. Fazio.
"The investigative themes are coming along nicely."

Social Studies

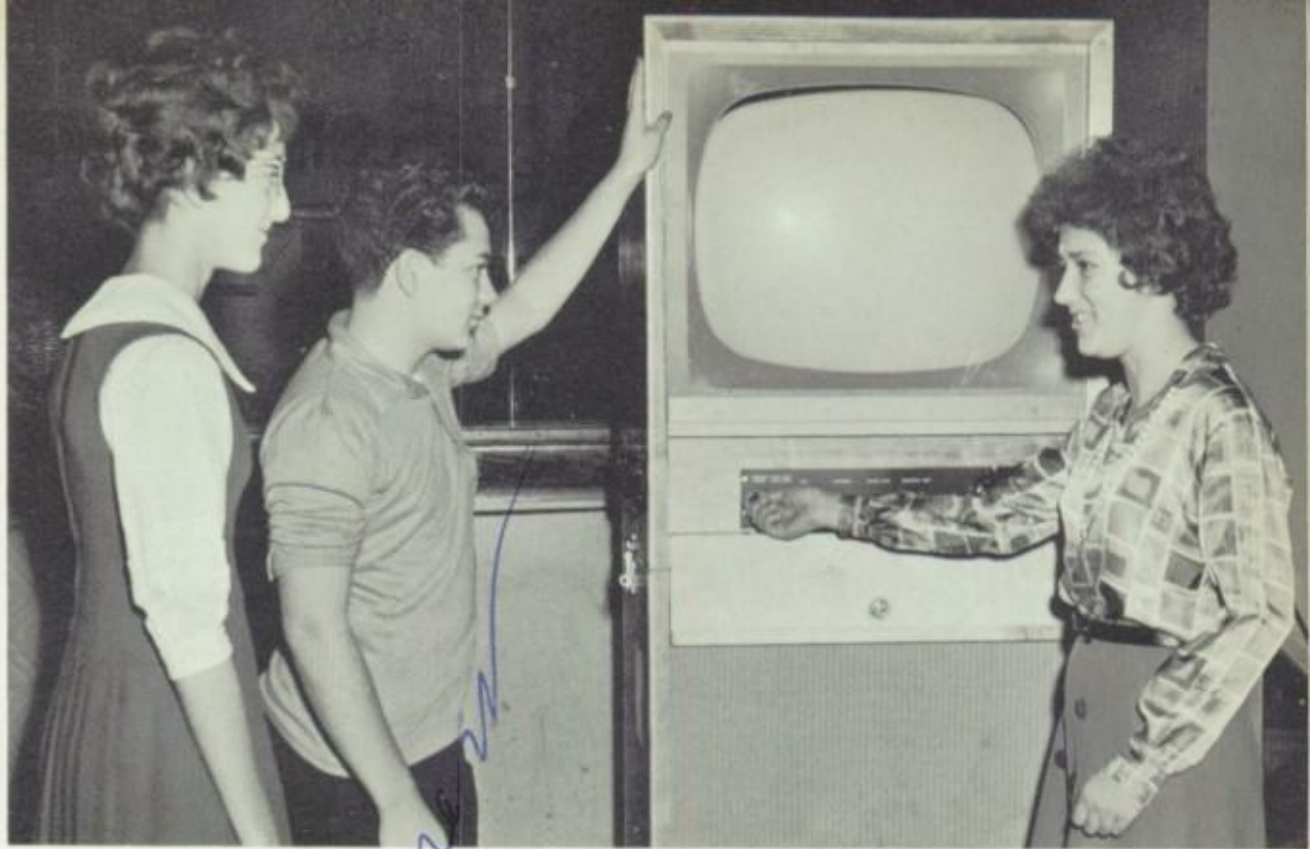

P. R. Minetti, A. Hilko.
"... and then there are current events."

T. V. WORLD CULTURES

The new Television World Cultures Course, introduced this year at Baldwin, is an experiment in large-group education. During the seventh period each day, students, enrolled in this study, viewed a half-hour television program dealing with the cultures of the world. The Television World Cultures Course, like all new ideas, was a challenge to students and teachers.

Pat Erfert, Howard Hodge, Zenobia Kott.

"Wonder if I could switch to something besides World Cultures?"

Grace Luther, F. D. Magness, John Berseth.

"A little homework never hurt anyone—but . . ."

A. P. HISTORY

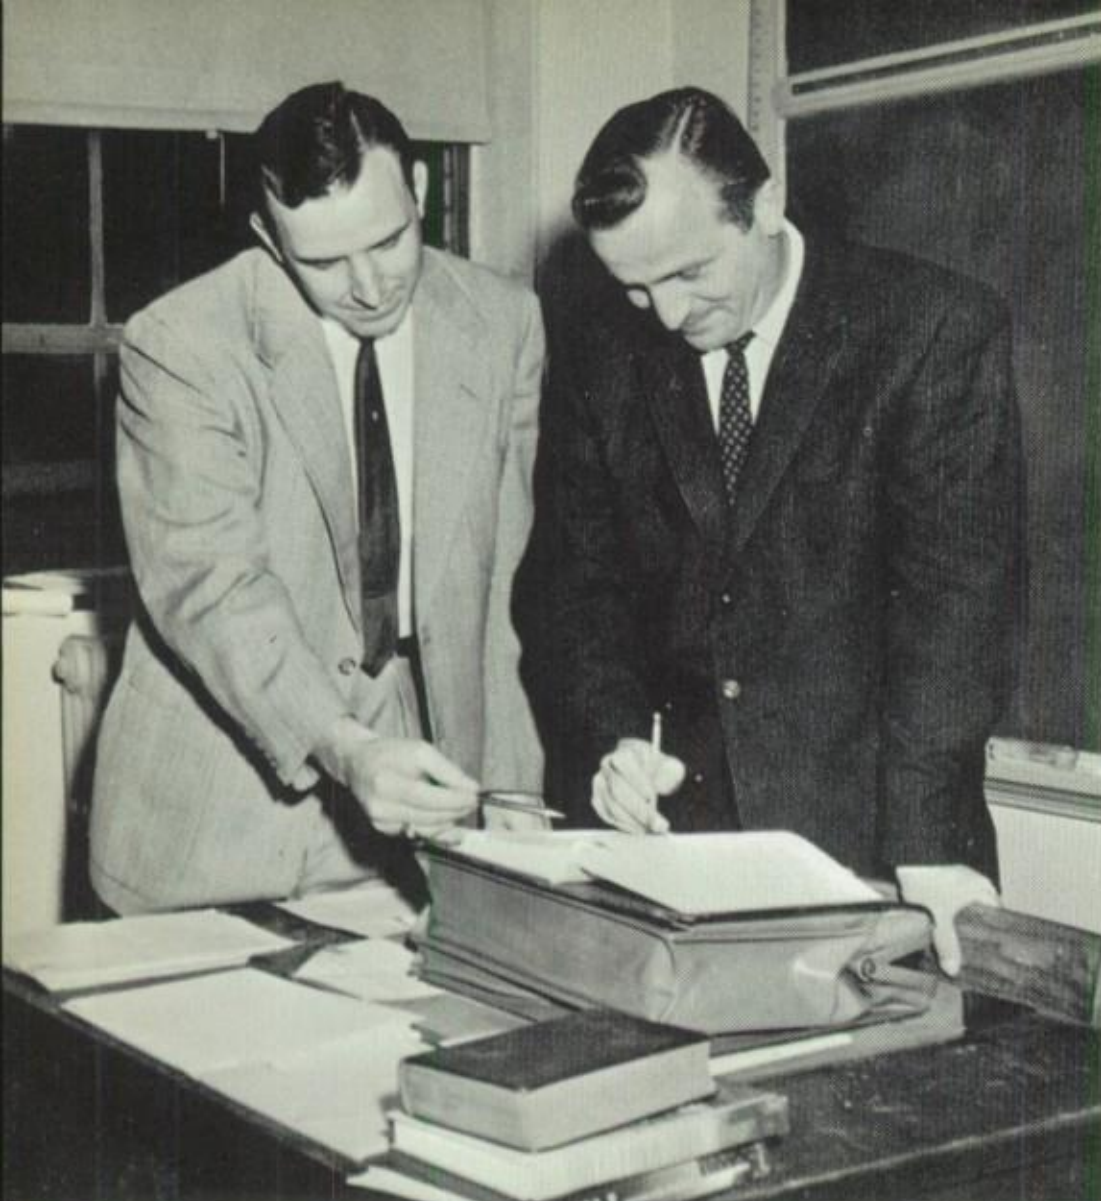

Advanced Placement History is another experimental course initiated at Baldwin this year. It emphasizes comprehension and appreciation of the ideas and concepts interwoven into the history of the United States.

Group discussion and outside reading are integral parts of the program. Advanced Placement History is designed to stimulate an understanding of history in its proper prospective.

J. F. Bruni, H. C. Colesberry, H. J. McCormick, E. J. Meell.

"For our next excursion . . ."

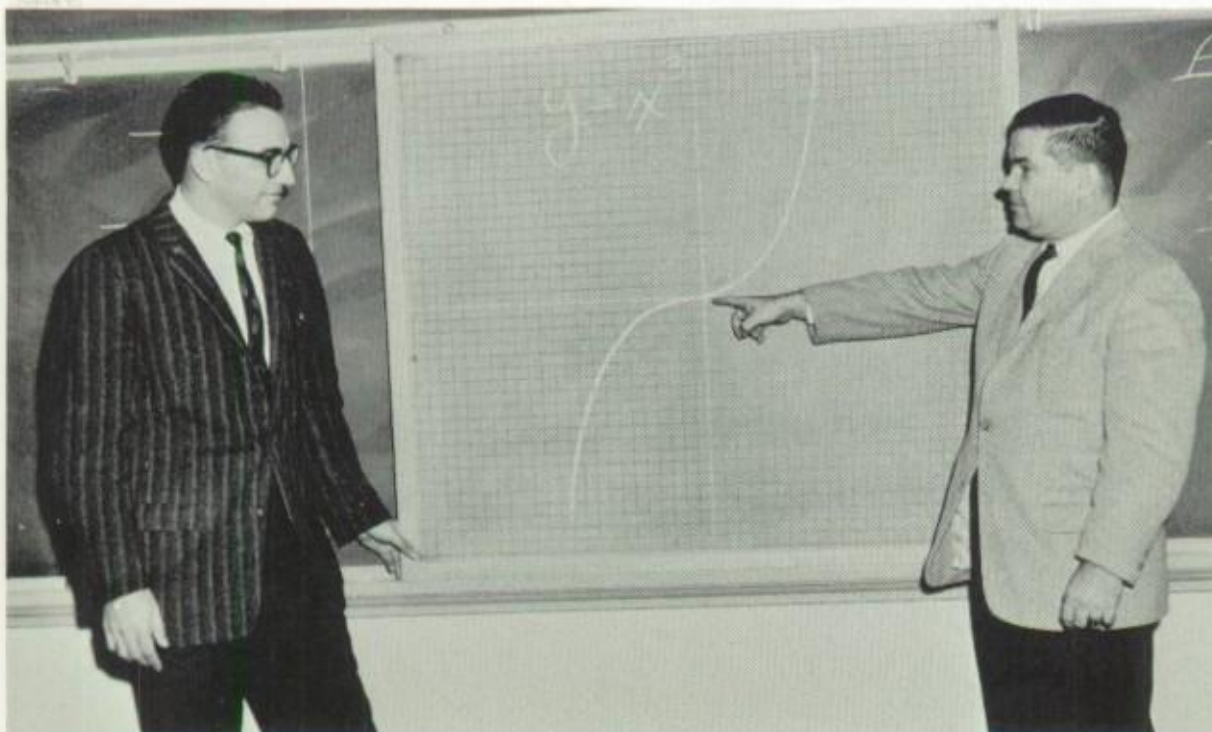

J. R. Wagner, Co-ordinator, W. F. Hornfeck.
The Math Men

Mathematics

J. R. James, Elizabeth B. Kirkland.
"Isn't that the way it's done?"

J. M. Carbonara, M. E. Chapman, Jr.
"Graphically speaking . . ."

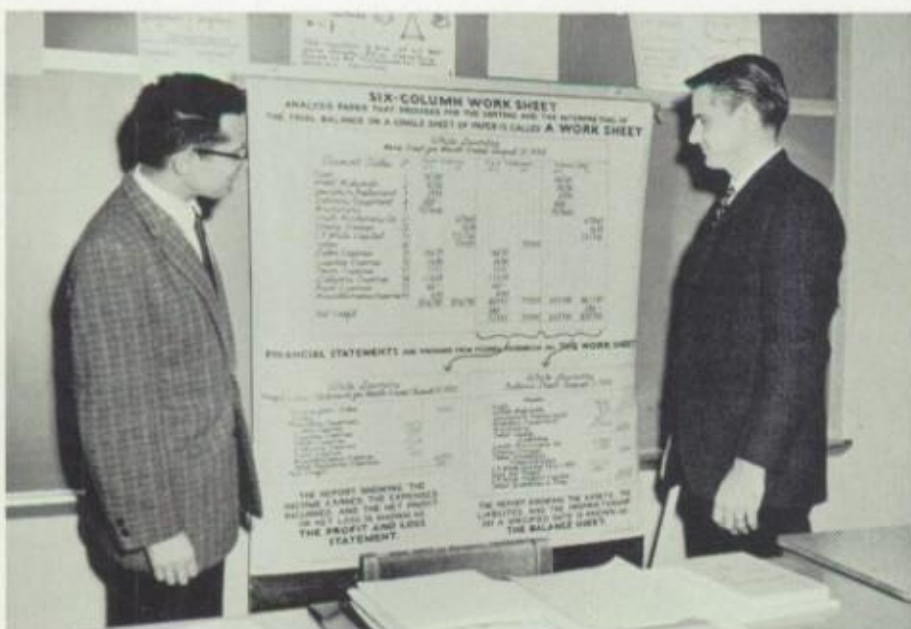

Joann E. Berkoben, Nancy D. Keeler, Yolande G. Conte.
They train our future secretaries.

Business Education

Eleanor M. Magness, Meryl A. Rust, Co-ordinator.
Planning tomorrow's business classes.

G. Michael, S. F. Kern.
Figures to befuddle you.

Evelyn H. Baxter, Co-ordinator
"When you hear me, raise your hand."

J. Trujillo, J. P. Colanero.
Habla usted español?

LANGUAGE LABORATORY

The Language Laboratory, installed at Baldwin last year, is a tremendous help to students and teachers. Students have achieved greater comprehension of foreign languages by hearing tapes through earphones. Facilities for imitating the tapes help students improve intonation and pronunciation. This year visual aids have been added so that students not only hear and speak the language, but also co-ordinate these senses through sight. The increased proficiency of students in foreign languages has been very noticeable.

Languages

Mr. Oesterich
"It's not as easy as it looks."

Miriam G. Bode, Elizabeth A. Hess.
"Geography is an important part of French, n'est-ce pas?"

E. N. Oesterich
The Berlin crisis?

W. J. Bozic, Eva M. Rackley.
The Latin influence.

*Bona Fortuna!
 Eva M. Rackley*

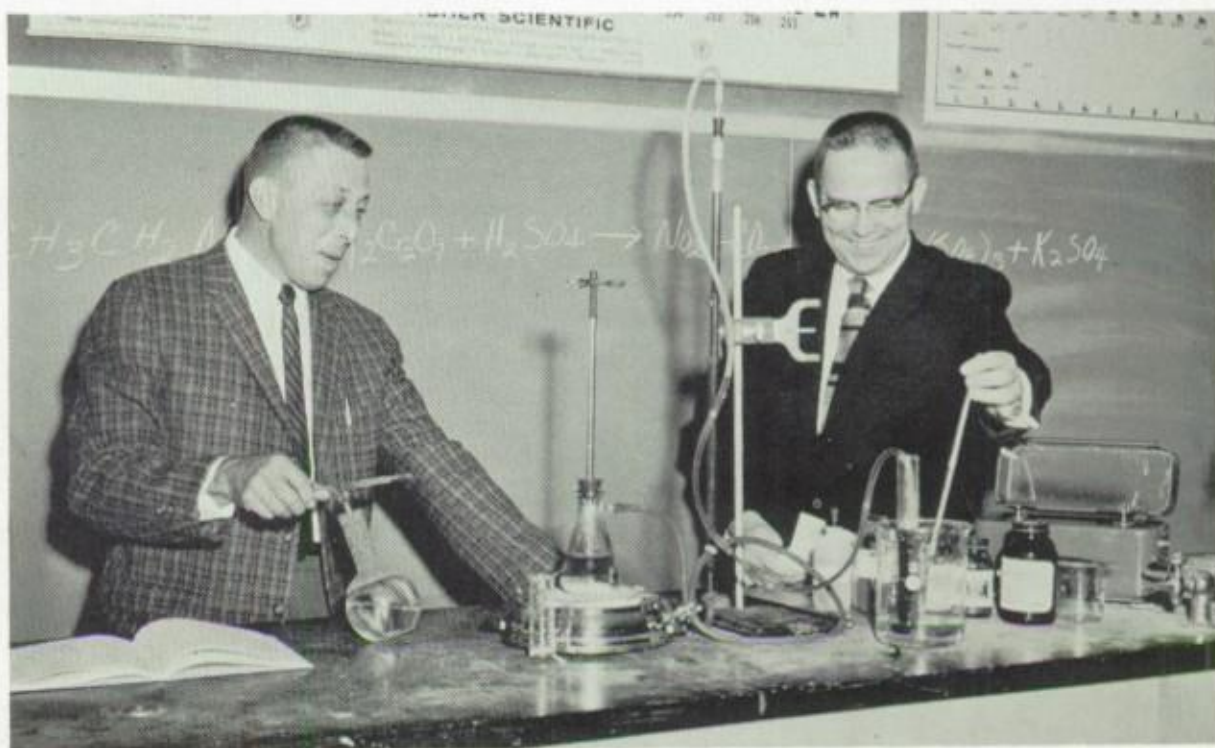

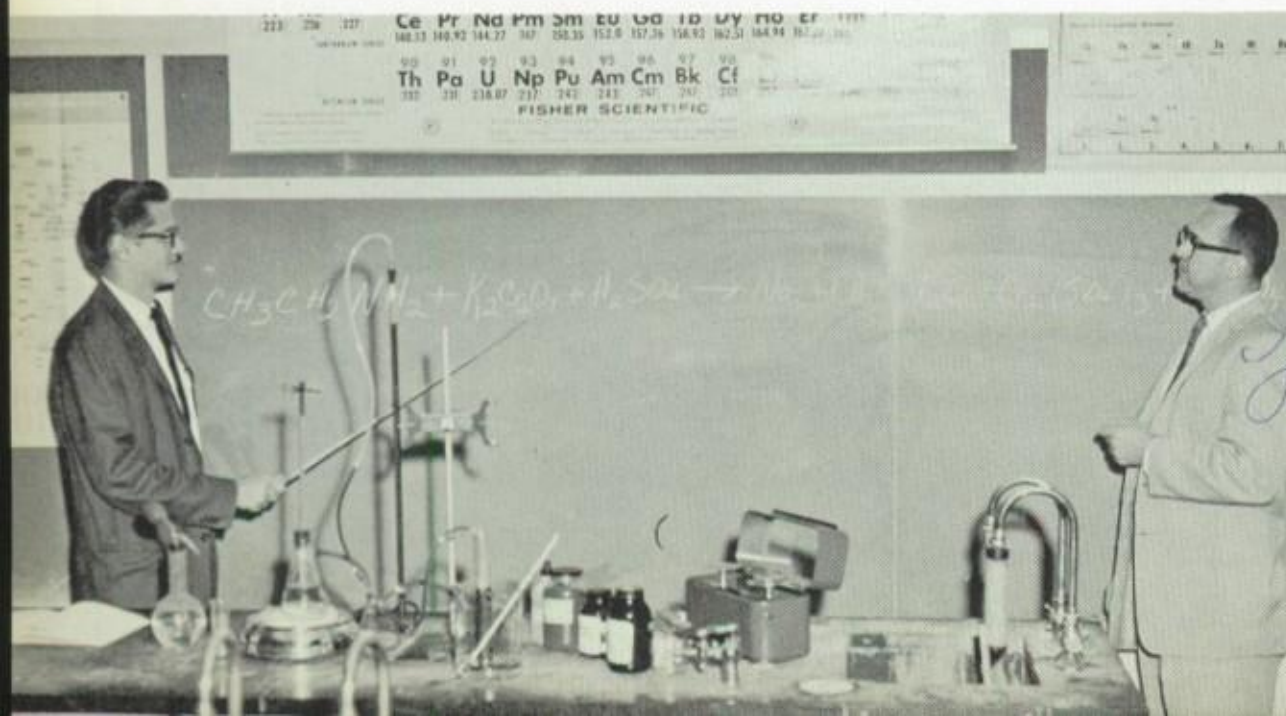

Veronica Brovet, J. F. Jaklich.
Now, to make a hybrid.

C. B. A. CHEMISTRY

This is an experimental course in its second year at Baldwin. The major theme of the Chemical Bond Approach, which is woven through the course, is the idea that the chemical and physical properties of substances are the result of the manner in which its atoms bond to one another. The emphasis is on the three types of bonds; ionic, covalent, and metallic.

A. C. Frantz, D. W. Kelly.
Looks complicated, doesn't it?

V. W. Zuraw, H. D. Becker.
"Dare you to solve this one!"

*lots of luck,
H. D. Becker*

R. B. Gordon, Mary G. Gibbon, G. M. Banky, A. J. DiGuilio.
"Biology is fascinating."

Mimi Wynn, J. A. Bartos, Co-ordinator.
"Now pay attention, Mimi."

Science

R. A. Dickinson, Tengiz Ucok.
"You measure force this way."

P.S.S.C. PHYSICS

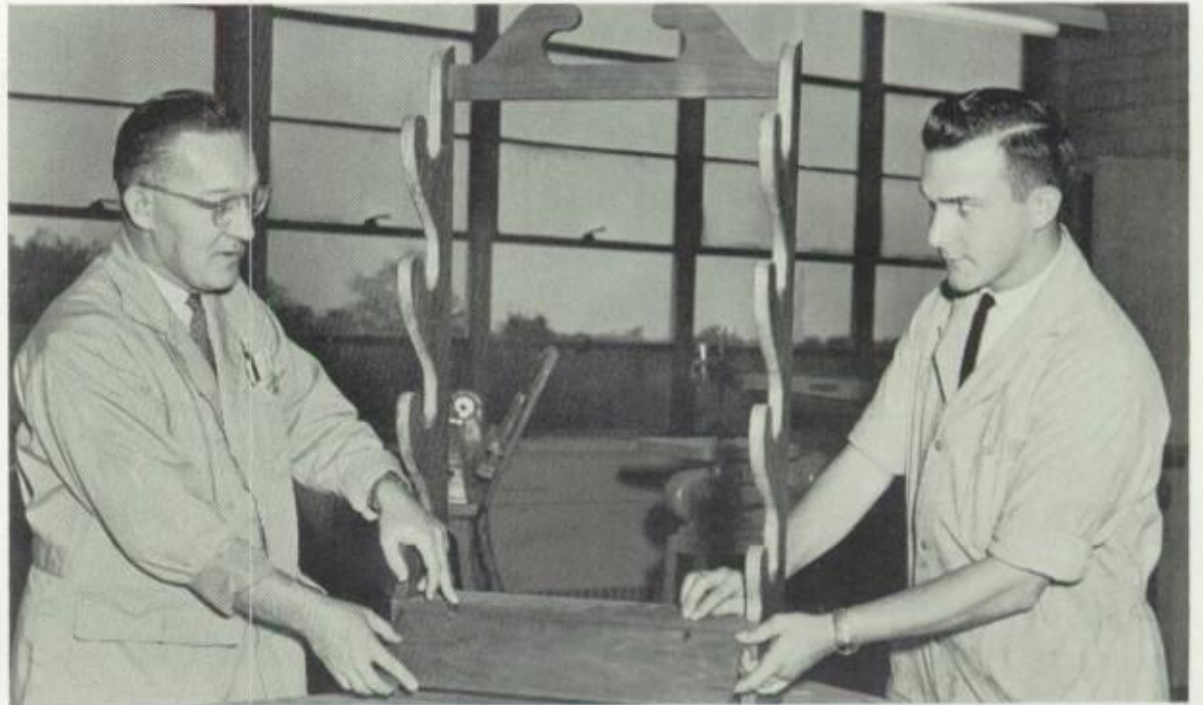

P.S.S.C., Physical Science Study Committee, is a new approach to high school physics. It is designed to reduce memorization, develop comprehension of logical sequence, and stimulate interest in scientific concepts. The series of techniques, applied through textbooks, problems, films, and laboratory work, encourages students to think. P.S.S.C. Physics prepares one for the understanding of modern physical science.

Anita Malone
Everyone should be prepared.

Practical Arts

W. J. Sullivan, Co-ordinator, W. A. Doney.
"They did a good job."

W. J. Sullivan, J. B. Stone, J. W. Waterman, H. M. Robbins, R. L. Keller.
Only the best equipment will do.

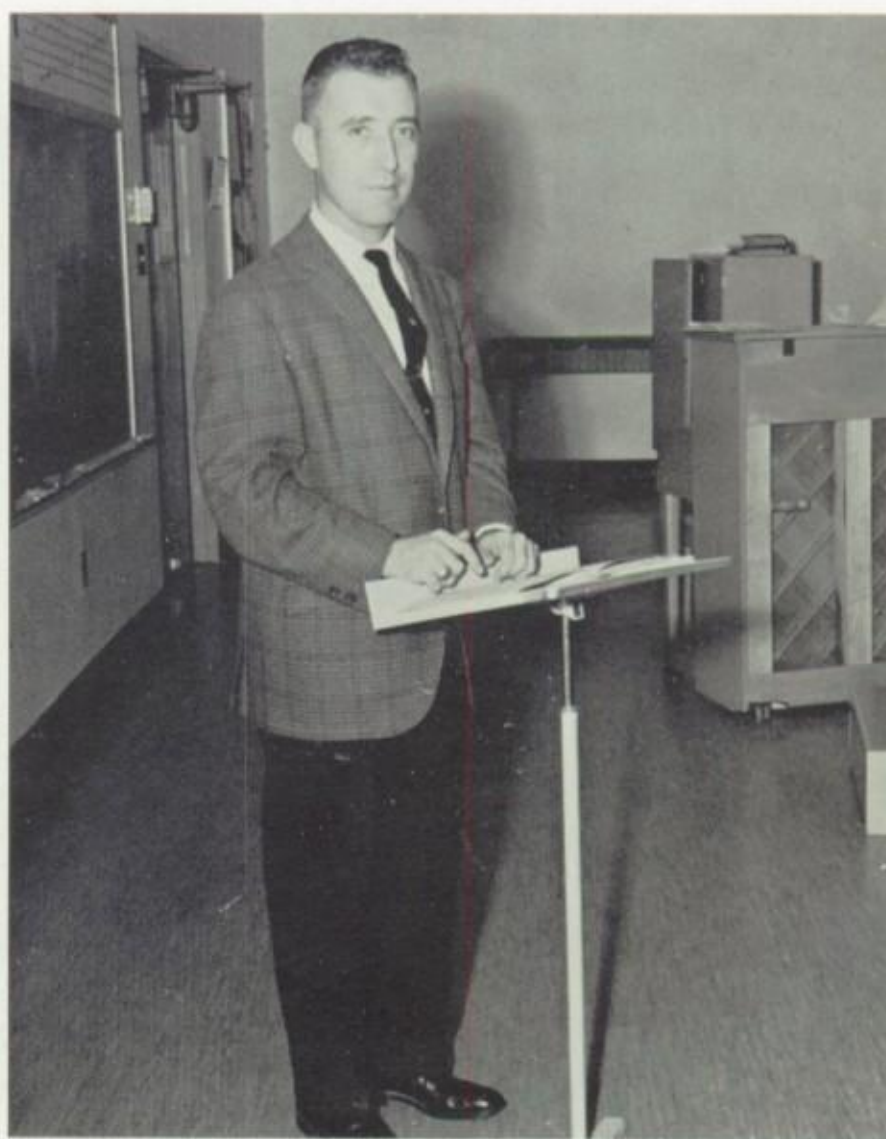

Fine Arts

SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS AND SPONSORS—Standing: J. Beyer, Vice President; Mr. Bartos, Sponsor; M. Misko, President. Seated: T. Probed, Treasurer; Mr. Gillooly, Sponsor; J. Lewis, Secretary.

Class Colors: Blue and White

Class Flower: White Rose

Class Motto: "It is better to be than to seem."

During our Senior year, we reach the academic and social apex of our high school career. As a class, we share for the first and last time those exclusively senior events . . . Senior Recognition Night, Senior Christmas Dance in "The Peppermint Lounge," the Senior Class party, the antics of "Her Majesty, Miss Jones," and finally the Prom, Class Day, and Graduation. These events will be with us always, but we must not dwell in the past for the future beckons.

William J. Jesko

On Saturday, October 21, 1961, Mr. William Jesko passed away. Mr. Jesko taught everyone who knew him, both in the classroom and out of it. His subject was not Spanish. He instructed us in those subjects only the greatest of teachers understand, and taught in the only way these things can be taught, by example.

He taught us a great deal about respect: respect for hard work and pride in doing a job, no matter how difficult or trivial, as well as we could; he taught us not only to tolerate, but to respect the other fellow's point of view; he taught us in his quiet, mild way to respect authority.

He served generously and ably as the long-time sponsor of our Senior classes. In a way, he was the Senior class. For this reason, we have chosen to place his picture here, with the student body of which he was such an integral part.

He made the lives of those of us who knew him and learned from him richer, and among us his passing is deeply felt. The real tragedy, however, lies in the fact that so many more might have been taught by him. The greatest loss is theirs.

MUSIC

The Highlander Choir

and Baldwinaires

THE HIGHLANDER CHOIR

When the auditorium echoes with a mighty Spiritual, or the soft, mellow strains of "Annie Laurie" fill the air, one can be sure that Mr. Shalley is directing the Highlander Choir. The ninety-three choir members will never forget first performance jitters, the dozens of lemons, and the weeks of exhausting rehearsal that went into every concert and assembly. The choir's most outstanding performances included the Christmas Program, the annual Spring Concert, and those at the Hilton Hotel and Thiel College.

The Baldwinaires, a select group of thirty voices chosen from the choir, performs for various community organizations throughout the year.

Audiences long remember any performance of the Baldwinaires or the Highlander Choir; these superior groups are a credit to themselves and to Baldwin High School.

"Are you union employed?"

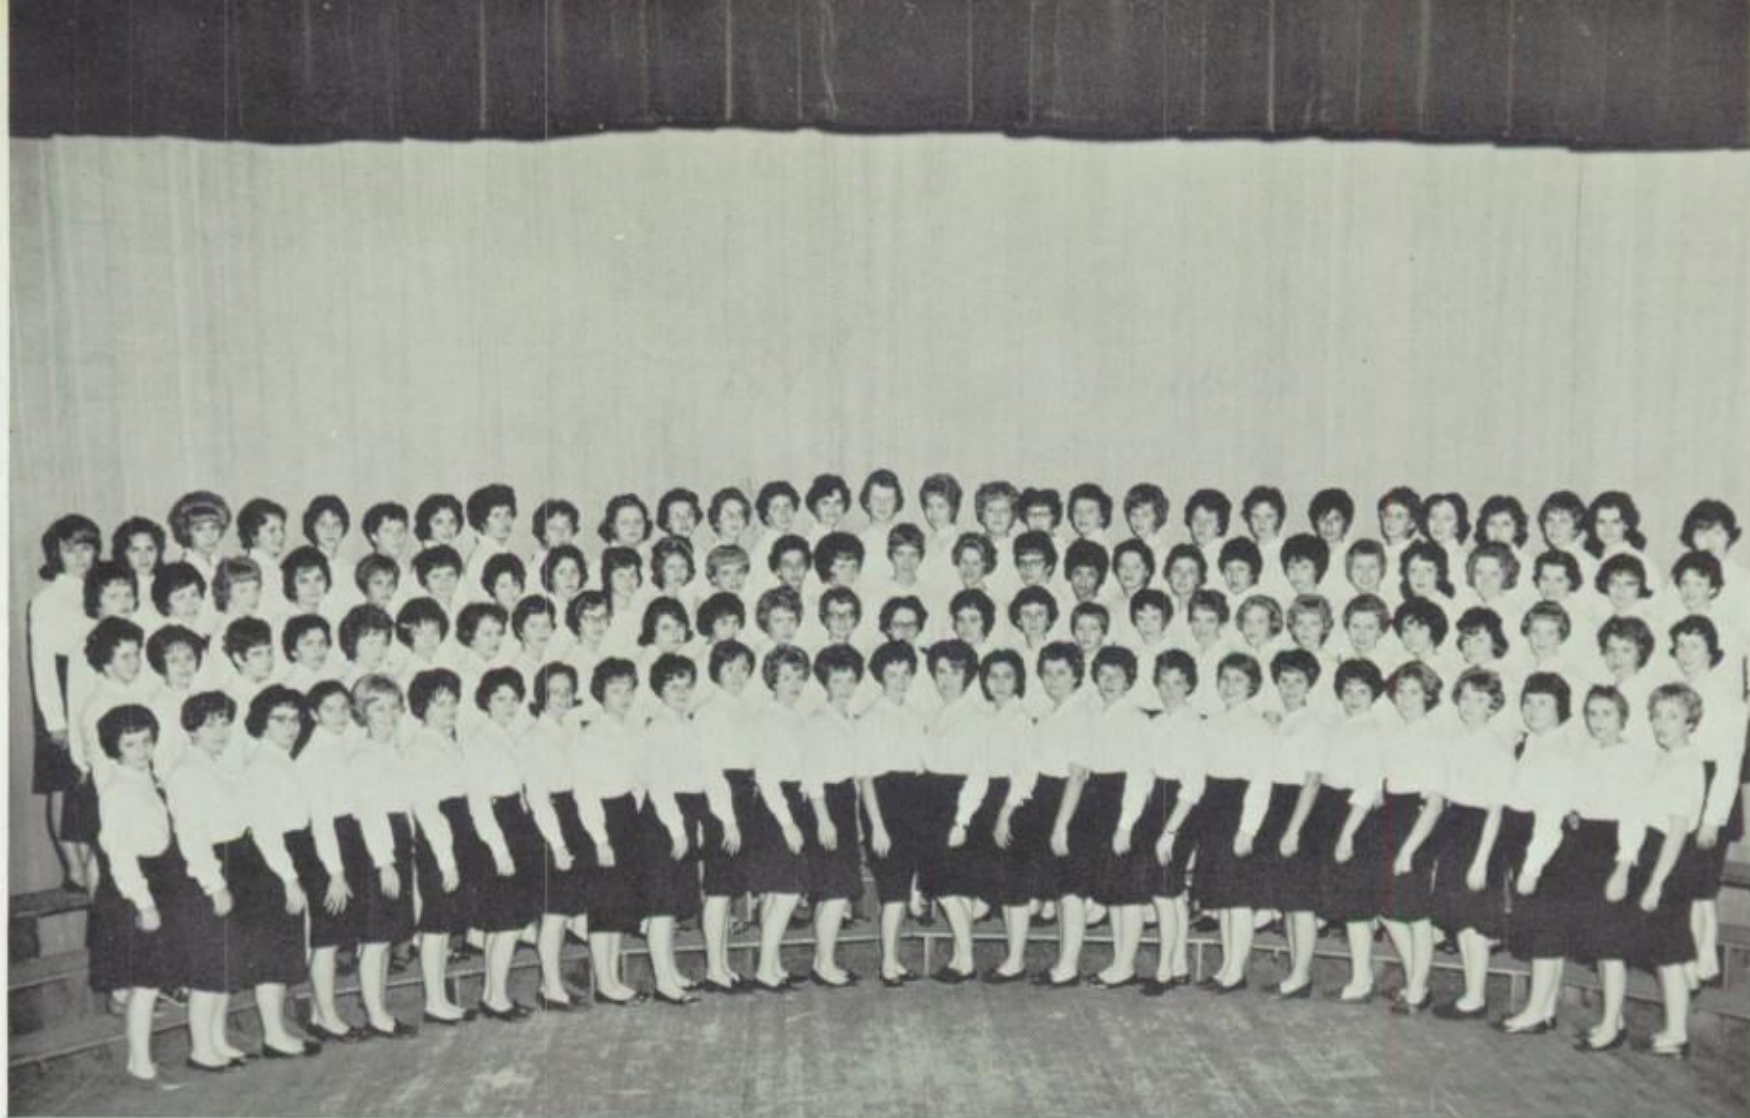

The sound of young men's voices lifted in song never fails to thrill an audience. The efforts of these sixty boys—sophomores, juniors, and seniors—resulted in a creditable Men's Glee Club. Some of their selections this year were "The Halls of Ivy," and "Go Tell It on the Mountain." Clad in white dinner jackets, the group which included choir members, sang everything from hymns to chanteys and added a handsome accent to the Christmas Program and Spring Concert.

Girls' Glee Club

Usually a collection of 120 girls in one place at one time results in chaos; not so with our Girls' Glee Club. Such selections as the delightful "Carol of the Bells" and the familiar "Christmas Song" sung by the Girls' Glee Club enhanced the holiday programs. Their second performance at the Spring Concert was received enthusiastically by the audience. Under the direction of Mr. Shalley, the Girls' Glee Club has surpassed the efforts and accomplishments of all other glee clubs at Baldwin.

HIGHLANDER MARCHING BAND

The Marching Band continued its tradition of music, marchin' and dancin' during halftime performances and pep rallies this year. Anticipation filled the air when the band made its entrance to the familiar tune of "Bonnie Lassie." The Majorettes, Highlanders, and Heatherettes, all a part of the marching band, added to the array with marching routines, twirling, and dancing. The halftime show made each sharply-uniformed band member proud to be a part of this organization.

The new emphasis placed on concert performances this year produced fine results. "Victory at Sea," conducted by Mr. McIlroy, and the beautiful "Eroica," directed by student-conductor Jerry Henderson, were only two of the stimulating selections by Concert A Band which enhanced the Mid-Year Concert. The Spring Concert was another memorable event, with its entertaining program of classical music balanced by lighter compositions. This was a most successful year for the Concert A Band.

Football

The 1961 football season at Baldwin was one of big upsets and fiercely fought contests. Baldwin launched the season on September 6, trouncing an out-classed Coraopolis team 27-6. The Highlanders didn't fare as well in the next game when they were thwarted 25-13 by a Mount Pleasant speed merchant, Barry Queer, who accounted for all of Mt. Pleasant's tallies. This defeat bounced the Highlanders from the WPIAL Double A Competition. On the 22nd, Baldwin got back on the winning side, beating a highly favored Bethel team. The Highlanders failed to grab a single first down in the first half, but Baldwin roared back to edge Bethel 9-6 on a T.D. by Tom Chorba and a field goal by Andy Tomko. This was the only loss of the season for Bethel.

THE UNHERALDED MANAGERS—H. Reese, A. Provolt, J. Adams, S. Howard.

THE BIG FOUR—Mr. Hornfeck, Mr. Gillooly, Mr. Fritsch, Mr. Karpa.

The next Friday, September 29, Baldwin's hope of making it two straight was again snuffed out by a 19-14 defeat at the hands of West Mifflin North. The highlight of the game was a 60 yd. dash from punt formation to paydirt by our flashy halfback, Denny Pogany.

On October 6th, Baldwin nearly scored a major upset over a worried Uniontown team, who finally managed to squeak out a 7-0 win. The courageous Highlanders were a constant threat to the Raiders' goal line but were crippled by fumbles and penalties at critical moments.

After being rained out Friday, October 13, the Highlanders roared in to play the unbeaten Munhall Indians. Baldwin stunned them with a 20-0 loss. Junior halfback, Andy Tomko, came through with all of Baldwin's 20 points, scoring two T.D.'s, 2 extra points and a field goal. Munhall never even came close to the Highlander goal line. Baldwin's record now stood at 3-3.

On Friday, October 20, the Highlanders walked away with an easy victory over Cannon-McMillan. The final score was Baldwin 27, McMillan 6.

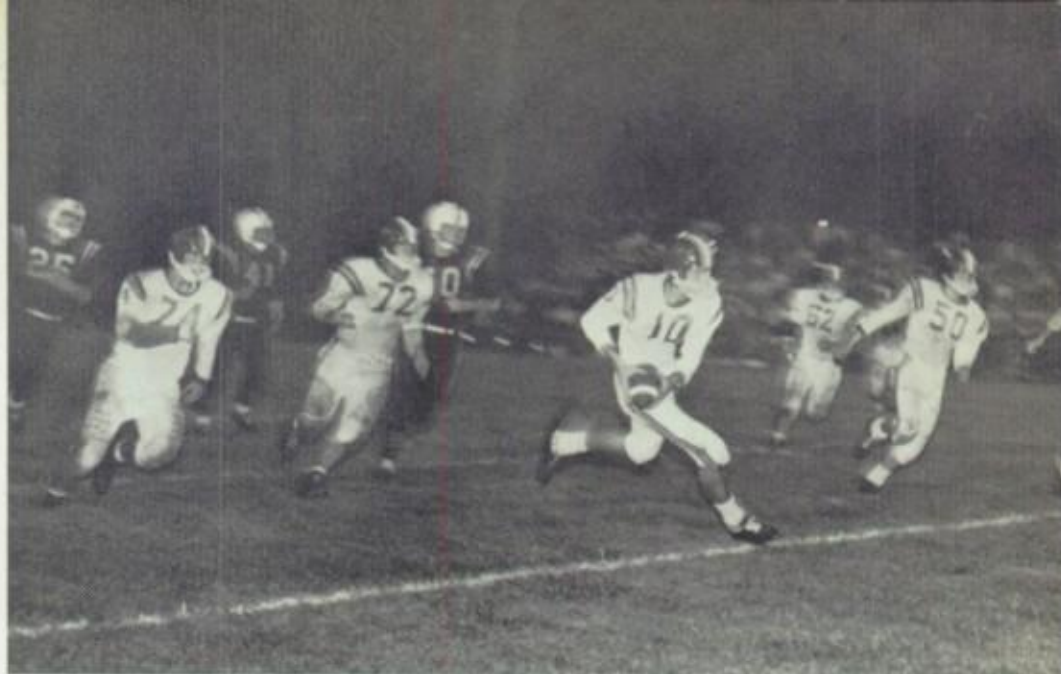

On Senior Recognition night the Highlanders lost a heart breaker to Mt. Lebanon. At the end of the game, the scoreboard favored the Blue Devils, 34-27. Halfback Denny Pogany scored three T.D.'s and Wes Berger scored one.

In the last game against Washington, the Highlanders received the worst thrashing of the whole year. The final score was 35-14.

To sum up the season, it can be said that the Highlanders played great ball and came up with some surprising upsets over astonished teams.

In the fall of the 1961 sports season, Cross Country emerged as one of Baldwin's most successful competitive sports. Although the team suffered the loss of former star runners, seniors Tim Lewis, Jim Baughman, and Dick Pell, nevertheless, compensated with excellent achievements. Led by coach Robert Dickinson, the Cross Country team upset several top-rate Pittsburgh area high school teams.

Basketball

This year the Highlanders competed for the first time in Section IV against such teams as Chartiers Valley, Trinity, Dormont, Cannon-McMillan, Washington, and Mt. Lebanon. The team won many exhibition games with good ball-handling and accurate shooting. As the regular season progressed, the team continued to improve under the expert guidance of its coach, Mr. George Banky. Fast action and excitement characterized all Highlander games—home and away.

The fine record maintained throughout the season may be attributed largely to the efforts of seniors Bill Wetzel, Tom Young, Tom Jorshie, and Steve Tepsic. With such fine returning players as Andy Tomko, Tom White, and Bill Lohmeyer, Baldwin can expect an experienced and successful team next year.

Top clockwise: M. Kamon, A. Speicher, W. Lohmeyer, T. Chorba, A. Tomko, T. Jorishie, D. Krah, D. Kartman, S. Tepsic, T. White, Mr. Banky, Coach; T. Young, W. Wetzel.

The '61-'62 J.V. Basketball Team showed tremendous team work and turned in an impressive season. Relying on speed, passing, and a balanced attack, and inspired by their new coach, Mr.

Hornfeck, the J.V. team won decisive victories. The players have launched promising varsity careers; the fans look forward to next season with anticipation.

Wrestling

Our two coaches, Mr. Matthews and Mr. DiGiulio watch the match intently.

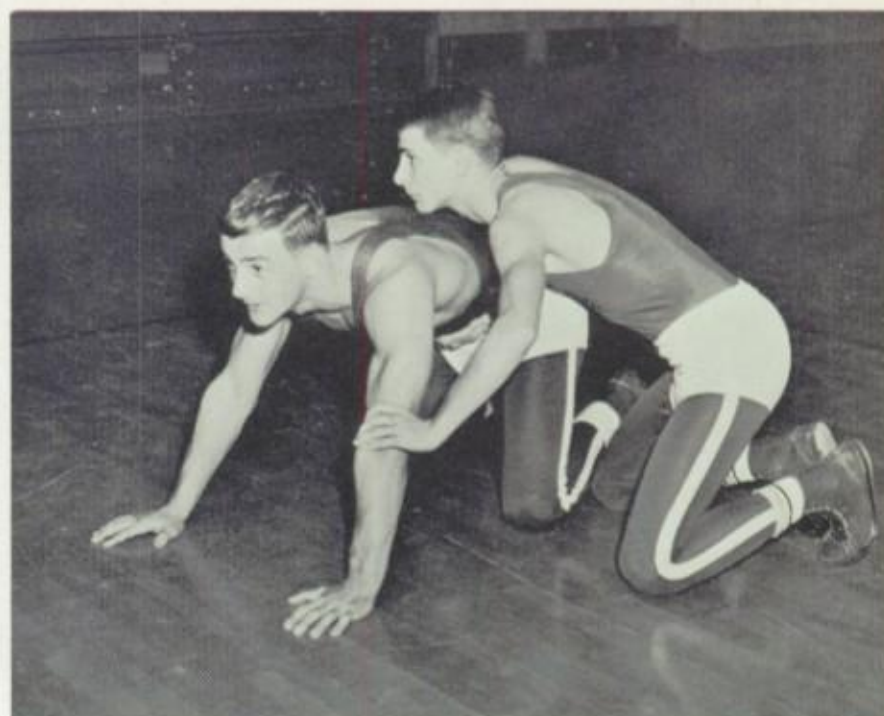

The success of this year's wrestling team is a credit to the boys on the wrestling team, their coaches, Mr. Matthews and Mr. Di Giulio, and to Baldwin High School. The team compiled a fine record against tough competition. One of the most important rungs in the ladder of success was the 25-19 defeat of Shaler. Shaler's defeat at the hands of Baldwin broke a thirty-two match winning streak.

In March, the team competed in the WPIAL Section I Finals at Chartiers Valley against opponents from Mr. Lebanon, North Allegheny, Chartiers Valley, Carnegie, West Allegheny, Dormont, North Hills, Shaler, and New Castle. Baldwin survived the two day elimination matches, edged Mt. Lebanon to a 24-23 defeat, and captured the first place trophy. Three star wrestlers, Steve Elliot, Ed Stasik, and Bill Thompson won individual first place awards. Ray Niro and Bob Demare lost heartbreakers in the final seconds of two very close matches.

1962 was only the third year of varsity wrestling competition at Baldwin High School, and already our team has brought home the WPIAL Section I Finals trophy. We are justifiably proud of our wrestling team.

Track

In the track season Baldwin turned in many admirable individual and team performances. After school the boys were found practicing for many hours, building strength, speed, and endurance. In the event of rain or cold, calisthenics and practice went on inside the gym. Hard practice paid off, as Baldwin fared well both in regular season and in invitational meets.

Golf

Steve Stanko practices his approach shot.,

A successful golf season helped to highlight the spring scene. Employing skill and effective strategy, seniors Phil Fassett and Dave Elliott, supported by a great group of underclassmen, placed consistently in the win column. Playing in one of the toughest sections, and facing such worthy opponents as Mt. Lebanon and Bethel, the season proved itself a challenging one. Next year's team will have an excellent reputation to live up to.

Varsity Cheerleaders

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad infused new enthusiasm and spirit into Baldwin High School this year. Their consistent cheering from the sidelines stimulated our teams to victories.

After long hours of practice and encouraged by their new sponsor, Miss Beidler, the cheerleaders added new and catchy cheers to their usual routine.

Baldwin followers recognized the girls, led by captain Nancy Grundy, as a first-rate cheerleading squad.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders

The J.V. Cheerleading Squad was an asset to Baldwin's sports activities. Organized and sponsored by Mrs. Keeler, the "J.V.'s" practiced hard and performed well. Their precision and agility were characteristic of Baldwin High School cheerleading squads.

The cheerleaders were led by Captain Sandy Pfund, and their arrival at the center of the floor was always a welcome sight to the spectators.

*"What is to come we know not.
But we know that what has been was good."*
William Ernest Henley

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to those whose advice or help has been invaluable: Mr. C. Greiner; Mr. Agate and Mr. Phillips of Terrace Arcade Studios; Mr. F. Peterson of Wm. J. Keller Inc.; and Jean Melaney.

Bill
To a real nice guy with good looks. It's been fun having English with you. You're one of the few boys in here I know.
Be good and success always.
May I change your name
to "Allen".
P. M. I love you.

Bill
So a real nice kid
who was the middleman
at the lunch table.
"Mike"
"u"

To Bill,
A kid in my lunch period. Remember those crazy arguments.
Ron
"64"

Bill,
A real sweet
Latin scholar.
Don't know how I would have gotten along without you!
Lots of luck
Cathy R.
TNT

Bill,
To my favorite
gum chewer of room
107. You must really like the Magness detentions, too bad I never got to find out what they are like.
Good luck!
Jim "62"
